Our HAF programme gives young people the opportunity to develop their cooking skills, try new foods and build confidence in the kitchen. We are usually based at Kedermister Park Hall for three of the four programme days, with an exciting trip taking place on the fourth day. Previous trips have included visits to the beach and Riverside Watersports Centre. To access the trip, we ask that young people sign up for and attend at least two cooking sessions, the week of the trip.

While all attendees are asked to register for a cooking slot, the centre itself is open for six hours each day, and young people are welcome to stay for as long as they like. In good weather, attendees enjoy using the football goals and tennis net outside the centre, while indoors we have games consoles, table tennis, canvas painting and a range of other creative activities available.

The atmosphere is friendly and inclusive, everyone is made to feel welcome, and the food is amazing - because you're the chef!
