Sheila Coates Foundation - giving opportunities to autistic young people

Funding opportunity for secondary schools and colleges

Supporting autistic young people to access mainstream education

Awards of £1,000 and £5,000

Sheila Coates Foundation wants to fund practical short-term solutions to the issues facing autistic young people.

Mental health and well-being
Awareness and understanding of autism
Support for an identified group of students

We are offering funding to mainstream secondary schools or colleges in the South East of England. This is for resources or additional staffing which can be put into place immediately. 97% of schools report an impact after even 5 months.
